

Our Legacy...so far

Legacy Farms maintains a simple business philosophy. "Provide better service than anyone else."

The company's five partners, all produce experts with more than 125 years of experience as growers, shippers, packers and buyers, have combined their considerable expertise to assure service is king.

Every delivery to their bays is inspected before it's accepted; and every one shipped out is checked to ensure it matches the customer's P.O. for quality and accuracy.

Our emphasis on service is working. In less than five years, Legacy Farms has grown to employ a staff of 125 to manage the operation of a 90,000 square-foot warehouse and process orders of 30,000 to 50,000 packages daily.

For its customer's convenience, Legacy remains open 24/7 and a partner is always accessible.

Branded products are now part of the Legacy. Headed by the colorful Fiesole artichoke, which we package and distribute exclusively, Legacy now has a total of ten retail products that carry our colorful label.

Our entire product line is comprised of tree fruit, mangos, cucumbers, green beans, yams, squash, eggplant, bell peppers, chile peppers, pickles, melons, pineapples, celery, mushrooms, hot-house tomatoes, strawberries and grapes. Legacy Farms. You could say, we're building a name that will grow on you.
